When an ADSI customer has a question, is in need some support, or requires a little expert advice, they rely on having their go to person just a phone call away.

More and more people are becoming aware of how beneficial it is to have an industry expert at their disposal. If you feel your customer service skills and passion for developing business will enable you to support our growing customer base, we want to hear from you.

Our customers are a varied bunch, and we like that; we are skilled in supporting all industries and our approach to account management is as flexible as the products and services we offer. We understand how important it is for our customers to have the right communication package for their business; we pride ourselves on making suitable recommendations, educating our customers on their options, and guiding them to make a choice that suits their needs.

You'll need a good eye for detail and the ability to seize and create opportunities. We are perfectly equipped to aid and support your industry knowledge, you just need to bring a positive attitude, determination to succeed and an open mind.

We are a tech driven organisation so you can expect to work with industry recognised systems. Our offices are smart and modern with free onsite parking. We have a great team atmosphere and offer company events like big nights out and worldwide trips.

Please note that this is an office-based role.
